

TRUST is essential in all relationships; we trust our family, friends, teachers. We even put our trust in people we do not know; doctors, pilots, bus drivers. Trust is central to society, to living together in harmony, so it is to be valued and honoured. We build trust in others and them in us by being reliable, honest and caring. When we work with others, letting go of control ourselves and trusting them to do their bit to the best of their ability leads to everyone feeling satisfied and enriched. To trust is to show faith in others; to trust God is to have faith in him.

1 Corinthians 13: 6-7

Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

John 14:1 (Jesus' words to his disciples)

'Do not let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God; trust also in me.'

Romans 15:13

May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.